Tijdschrift voor Mediterrane Archeologie 73

Tijdschrift voor Mediterrane Archeologie (TMA) invites beginning and senior scholars to submit abstracts for an article in its 73rd issue.

We welcome contributions ranging from case studies to theoretical approaches related to the archaeology of the Mediterranean world in its broadest sense. Research with a historical or epigraphic approach can also be admitted.

Guidelines and timeline for articles

You are asked to send a preliminary title, an abstract of ca 250 words, and a short bio to tijdschrift@mediterrane-archeologie.nl by Friday the 4th of October 2024. Any questions may also be sent to this address. Articles in TMA must be 1500-3000 words. Our guidelines, both in English and in Dutch, can be found on tijdschrift.mediterrane-archeologie.nl/voor-auteurs/.

Further publication options in TMA

Researchers who want to write an introduction to recently started research projects are invited to contact us via tijdschrift@mediterrane-archeologie.nl. Suggestions for reviews of recent publications can be sent to recensies@mediterrane-archeologie.nl.

About TMA

Since its beginnings in 1988, TMA has provided both beginning and established scholars connected to Dutch and Belgian universities (and Dutch and Belgian scholars abroad) the opportunity to publish their research. The journal is published twice a year; the even issues have a theme. Every volume consists of articles, reviews of specialist literature, and introductions to new research. Contributions are written in Dutch; non-Dutch authors can submit their contribution in English. TMA is aimed at a readership of archaeologists and the general public with an interest in scholarly archaeology.
